

Oregon Trail ranks in the 95th percentile nationally

Oregon Trail schools provide students with a well-rounded education, from the pre-kindergarten programs at Sandy Grade School to the Career & Technical Education (CTE) programs at Sandy High.

Superintendent Aaron Bayer said, “We are actively engaging students in their learning, making sure they develop the skills and habits to be lifelong learners while building a foundation of basic content knowledge and skills.”

- Oregon Trail ranks in the 95th percentile nationally. An academic study by researchers at Stanford University shows Oregon Trail students in grades 3-8 are achieving greater academic growth than those in all other Clackamas County school districts. The data analysis shows that over a 5 year span Oregon Trail students receive the equivalent of 5.8 years of education.
- SchoolDigger ranks Oregon Trail among the best districts in the county and state, with Oregon Trail ranking 15th out of 147 Oregon districts, and 3rd among Clackamas County school districts. Rankings are based on English Language Arts, mathematics, and science assessment scores supplied by the Oregon Department of Education.
- Oregon Trail students consistently outperform their peers statewide in meeting rigorous state standards in English Language Art, Mathematics, and Science, at all grade levels.
- Sandy High ACT and SAT scores are consistently above the state average. These tests assess educational development and the skills needed for success in first-year college coursework.
- Sandy High’s graduation rate has increased by 15% over the past 5 years.
- In 2018, Sandy High students who participated in one or more CTE course graduated at a rate of 94%.
